LOCAL POLICE WILL QUIZ TWO NABBED FRIDAY

Gettysburg police today planned to question two men apprehended in Hanover early Friday morning concerning the meaning of an item listing "Gettysburg — $31" found in a notebook in possession of the men.

Hanover police arrested the men, Alfred J. Bowers, 34, of Williamsport, and Edwin J. Wright, Port Allegheny R. 2, at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning while they were driving away from Mumford's Sinclair Service Station on Broadway, Hanover. Police said the station had been burglarized.

Hanover police said they received a telephone call telling them of the suspicious actions of the men at the station and went to the scene. They said the two men admitted entering Rudy's Diner and the Firestone Store in Hanover Thursday night and early Friday morning. During the same night someone attempted entries at four other business places in the town.

HAD TOWN LISTINGS

In possession of the men was a notebook containing the names of 32 towns and cities in Pennsylvania and nearby states. Opposite each town was listed an amount of money. The amounts totaled $2,933. Harrisburg had

WILL CHANGE 4 AGE LEVELS IN GIRL SCOUTS

Names of four age levels within the Girl Scout program, to replace the three-level structure that the organization has used since 1938, were announced today by Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, president of the Girl Scouts.

Beginning in September, 1963, age groupings for the 2,683,000 girls in Girl Scouting will be as follows: Brownie Girl Scouts, aged seven and eight years; Junior Girl Scouts, aged nine, 10 and 11 years; Cadette Girl Scouts, aged 12, 13 and 14 years, and Senior Girl Scouts, aged 15, 16 and 17 years. Until that time, troops will continue in the present pattern.

Local firemen felt they had been fortunate. In Scranton Friday a brush fire got out of control and ignited 21 homes.

Friday afternoon's alarms included a call for Fairfield at 12:42; Littlestown at 1:49; Boneaville at 2:38; Bendersville at 3:18 and York Springs at 6:10. All told firemen responded to 15 fire alarms Friday.

Missile Frigate, Rocket Engine Plant Are Rocked By Explosions; 19 Hurt

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Explosions rocked a half-finished missile frigate in San Pedro and a rocket engine plant in Marshall, Tex., Friday, injuring 19 persons. A natural gas leak was blamed for a blast aboard the USS England, a $50 million frigate that will fire Terrier missiles. Nine persons were hurt, three seriously.

Three explosions in a building at the Longhorn Ordnance Plant in Marshall injured 10 persons, one seriously. The Thiokol Chemical Corp., which makes rocket engines at the plant, did not disclose the cause but said there would be no production delays.

The plant is working on the Nike-Hercules and Bull Pup missiles, and is expected to begin work soon on the Pershing.

LIGHT RAIN HAS CUT DANGER OF MORE BLAZES

The rainfall over night measured three hundredths of an inch at the Gettysburg Times—weather station this morning. It was the first rainfall here since Wednesday, March 21.

Five fires Friday afternoon brought to 49 the number of alarms in the area in eight days—41 of them grass and brush fires. A light rain Friday night and this morning in much of the area helped to reduce the "tinder box" condition of the dead grass and brush and firemen were hopeful that they can get a rest after a strenuous week.

Some fire companies were busy daily while others did not get a call during the period. But practically all companies were out at least once or twice during the period.

15 CALLS FRIDAY

County Fire Marshal John Muren Friday afternoon joined others until a rain" and firemen asked that there be no more burning of rubbish or weeds until there is more precipitation. "The rain helped but the situation may still be dangerous in some areas," Muren said.

Local firemen felt they had been fortunate. In Scranton Friday a brush fire got out of control and ignited 21 homes.

Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. following an hour social. Statewide candidates will be presented to the 150 delegates at this time.

The clothing will go to children in the Southern Appalachians who can't attend school because they haven't a shoe to wear or decent clothing. It will be distributed to families who have lost their possessions through destruction caused by flood, tornado, hurricane or fire. Clothing will be given to American Indians living in wretched conditions on reservations. It will help clothe orphans in homes all over the country.

Post Commander Eugene B. Miller asked residents of the area to gather up outgrown and unwanted clothing and shoes from closets and dresser drawers. All types of clothing are needed: For babies, children, teen-agers, men and women, as well as shoes, caps, mittens and bedding.

Clothing contributions may be given to VFW members or deposited at the VFW home on E. Middle St. any time through next Saturday.

John C. Gerard, a Los Angeles fire department inspector, said natural gas was being used as fuel for cutting torches aboard the England, and a pocket of escaping gas had accumulated near the steering-engine room at the stern of the ship. A witness said the explosion sent debris 100 feet into the air.

The Navy, scheduled to take delivery of the vessel about the middle of next year, said structural damage was minor.

The England, launched March 6, is 533 feet long, will displace about 7,000 tons and will have a speed of about 30 knots.

It is named for Ens. Charles E. England, who was killed in action at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

CSA GENERALS TO BE STUDIED HERE IN JULY

The role of Confederate generals in the Gettysburg campaign of 1863 will be the subject for lectures, conducted tours and group discussions at the fifth annual Gettysburg College Civil War Study Group to be held July 22-27. As in previous years, those in attendance will center their attention on various phases of Civil War military history.

Last year, Union generalship at Gettysburg was examined and analyzed by a number of well-known biographers of Union commanders. This summer's sessions will deal with their Southern counterparts. A. P. Hill, Richard S. Ewell, James Longstreet and Robert E. Lee. As also in other years, this program will be supplemented by tours of the Gettysburg battlefield area and by a three-day field trip to other battle sites.

TO VISIT OUR FIELD

Participants in the sessions will have an opportunity to study at first hand the entire Gettysburg campaign, from the preliminary clash at Brandy Station to the close of the three-day engagement on July 3, 1863.

On Sunday evening, July 22, Colonel J. Gay Seaborne will present an illustrated lecture on the Battle at Brandy Station, the opening battle of the campaign. The speaker will then conduct on 23 a tour of the Brandy Station battlefield area. The tour will continue during the next two days under the leadership of Colonel Harry J. Campbell, following Lee's advance northward via Front Royal and Winchester in Virginia, Hagerstown, Md., and will terminate at Gettysburg on Wednesday afternoon, July 25.

TO VISIT MUSEUMS

On Thursday and Friday, July 26-27, lectures will be presented on "Confederate Generals at Gettysburg." Dr. William Hasler, author of a recent biography of A. P. Hill, will lecture on that Southern corps commander. The part played by General Ewell will be examined by Colonel Wilbur S. Nye, author and student of Civil War military history. James Longstreet and his role will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. James I. Robertson, executive director of the National Civil War Centennial Commission. The final lecture will be presented by Admiral Beverly M. Coleman, and will deal with the generalship of Robert E. Lee at Gettysburg.

Arrangements were made for the Carr family of four to make the trip. At Disneyland the family will be guests of the management.

Disposition of the balance of the funds will be decided after the family returns. The committee will consult the Harrisburg physician who has been treating the youth and who gave permission for the trip, to determine whether the youth will require medical attention while in California.

Big Palm Sunday Snow 20 Years Ago

The balmy spring weather of the few days was in pleasant contrast to the long remembered Palm Sunday snow of March 29, 1942, when 24 inches of snow were measured here. It was the heaviest spring snow on record here up to that time and the mark never was surpassed in the succeeding 20 years.

Friday's high of 77 degrees in Gettysburg set a new high mark for this year but showers and cooler weather are in prospect, according to the weatherman. Thursday's high was 75.

FIVE NEGROES CHARGED WITH CLUMSY DEATH

By CARL K. BELL

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Five young men face possible death sentences in a clumsy slaying for which they claim they were hired and coached by the victim himself.

Four of the five, all Phoenix Negroes, admitted taking a retired Albany, N.Y., jeweler, Samuel L. Resnick, into the Arizona desert and tugging on opposite ends of an 18-foot rope to strangle him. The fifth told of setting it up because Resnick said he had an unbearable painful, incurable cancer and wanted his wife Lillian to collect $50,000 life insurance.

The cancer story is disputed by medical evidence; the insurance angle by Resnick's family. But the state says it doesn't matter. Pre-meditated killing still is murder, punishable by death in the gas chamber.

HEARING WEDNESDAY

Held on first-degree murder charges are Clemmie Jackson, 19; his brother, R. E., 21; Ernest Spurlock, 29; John Henry Lewis Jones, 21, and Jesse Tillis, 19.

A preliminary hearing in the case has been continued to Wednesday following two days of testimony.

Sheriff's Capt. Ralph Edmundson said all five of the defendants, questioned separately, gave this version of the crime:

Resnick, 61, contacted Clemmie Jackson Feb. 25 by answering a job-wanted advertisement in a Phoenix newspaper. He told the youth what he wanted and offered him jewelry valued at more than $5,000 if the killing could be made to look like a robbery-murder.

ONE BACKS OUT

Clemmie Jackson enlisted the four others but backed out himself an hour before their rendezvous with Resnick.

According to plan, Resnick went for a stroll after dinner March 1. A short distance from his moderately priced home in northwest Phoenix, he climbed into a car with R. E. Jackson, Tillis, Jones and Spurlock.

They drove about 10 miles to a remote spot in the desert and got out of the car.

The long rope, half an inch in diameter, was looped around Resnick's neck. Standing two on each side of the short, balding victim, the four men pulled on the rope. It broke.

SHOWS HOW

The four said Resnick then told them, "Here, let me show you how," doubled the rope for them and added: "I'll get on my knees for this time."

Arranged to create the appearance of robbery, the slain Resnick's pockets were turned inside out.

"We got the jewels," R. E. Jackson told officers, "but found only 25 cents."

Resnick's body was found three days later by a man riding through the desert on a horse.

CSA GENERALS

Harry W. Pfanz, will follow each lecture included in the program are visits to local museums and exhibits, including the new Visitor Center and cyclorama.

No special training or preparation in Civil War scholarship is required for those desiring to attend this program. Although the study group is a part of Gettysburg College's summer program, no college credit is offered. The program is designed for Civil War buffs, professional and amateur alike, who wish an opportunity to study the Gettysburg Campaign in some detail.

Argument was advanced that the radar method of speed detection violated the "due process" clause of the federal constitution by "placing an unconstitutional burden" on the defendant in that the use of radar allows a instantaneous timing for speed and makes it impossible for a defendant to disprove the charge of speeding.

Argument was based on the fact that electronic devices are subject to error and may be affected by various factors such as weather conditions, X-ray machines, welding apparatus, presence of iron ore, or any large moving objects and held that a motorist apprehended for speeding by the use of radar could not be expected to know of the presence of any of the myriad factors that might affect the radar reading.

The court held that it is inconceivable that any factor which might affect the accuracy of the radar equipment could be operating without the knowledge of the officers using the equipment.

For an outside factor to affect the reading without the officers' knowledge would require that it start to operate precisely when the vehicle left the beam." The ceased to operate precisely when the vehicle left the beam." The court also noted several cases at point including the case of Dooley vs. Commonwealth of Virginia, in which it was held that "the (radar) statute did not violate the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States."

JOINS LONG LIST

The local court held radar is comparatively new but that is no reason to reject its use as a means of measuring speed of vehicles. The law adapts itself to the advances of science and makes use of new scientific discoveries.

The still photograph, X-ray, the dictograph, the finger print, the phonograph, the microscope and even the bloodhound have all been used and received by judicial tribunals in proof of matters.

Other business of the court Friday afternoon included approval of the tax collector bonds of Beulah Snyder, Mt. Joy Twp., for $35,500; Herbert Weikert, Gettysburg, $267,000; and Paul A. Sh

HAIL AND RAIN CHASE BALMY U.S. WEATHER

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mass of cold air pushed eastward under a canopy of thick clouds today and threatened an abrupt end to the warm, sunny weather enjoyed in the East.

Temperatures rose into the spring-like 70s from Louisiana to Maine Friday, bringing the Northeast its warmest day of the year. The mercury climbed to 79 in New York City, exceeding the previous high of 78 set in 1910. It was a record 73 in Caribou, Maine.

Trailing behind the cold front was a band of showers and thunderstorms that drenched wide areas of the South. Mobile, Ala., had 2.7 inches of rain in a six-hour period. Heavy rains also pelted southern Arkansas and western Tennessee.

HAIL BREAKS WINDOWS

The rain extended into Georgia and the Carolinas as the cloudy cover extended over virtually all the area east of the Mississippi River.

Hail smashed windows across much of northern Alabama and accumulated to a depth of two inches in places. Hail, accompanied by wind, damaged 60 planes at Birmingham National Airport. Trees and utility poles were felled.

A cool, sunny weekend was in prospect for the area west of the Mississippi River where temperatures ranged from the 50s in the Southwest to below freezing in the central and northern Rockies.

SNOW IN COLORADO

The sunny skies promised melting temperatures for parts of Colorado, Kansas, Arizona and Texas, covered Friday by heavy snow. Walsenburg, Colo., recorded a 14-inch snowfall, while west of that city 18 inches fell at La Veta Pass.

In the Midwest, the flood threat appeared to be easing in Minnesota and northeastern Nebraska. It was a different story in Iowa where several cities braced for a weekend of dike-tending and possible evacuation.

FLOOD DAMAGE

Flood-weary residents of Sioux City, in northwest Iowa, prepared for trouble from the Big Sioux River, which crested at a record high level 40 miles upstream at

"CARRYING A GRUDGE"

Heavy the heart that carries a grudge... for hate fosters deep discontent... roads are always rougher when... we tread them with resentment... what use is there in harboring... the weeds of secret malice... that can make a novel of... even a marble palace... a grudge weakens the strongest heart... till it cannot endure... its action may be very slow... but it is always sure... regarding one with envy... is foolish all the way... envy is a pitfall... darkened with dismay... still, we have all been guilty of... the things of which I write... captured in an evil spell... in an awful plight... pay for guidance from on high... wipe away the smudge... remembering the heart is sad... when it carries a grudge.

THE HIDDEN PURPOSE

She'd had no drama in her life,
Her role had seemed a simple one;

That of a maiden, then a wife,
A loving mother later on.

The years slipped by at normal pace

With all the common joys and woes.

She thought her tasks were commonplace,

Mere duties every mother knows.

Was it to dust and bake and sweep
And wearily the stairs to climb,
Or was some service hidden deep
For her which she would learn in time?

But when her son to manhood grew,

Valiant and true and clean of hand,

As Mary, in her heart she knew
The purpose God for her had planned.

Bullet Trackmen Face Mt. St. Mary's In Track Meet Here On Tuesday

Eight lettermen and a crop of outstanding sophomores will attempt to push the Gettysburg College track team off to a successful start when it meets Mt. St. Mary's of Emmitsburg here Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Hal Glad will be starting his second campaign as Bullet coach. His squad rolled up a 3-1 record in dual meets a year ago and finished second in all four triangular outings. The main problem confronting the Gettysburg tutor is the lack of depth on this year's team. He feels that he has at least one strong man in each event. The dash events were the hardest hit by graduation a year ago, but this season Glad has his distance runners are the strongest ever.

CRIST DASH HOPEFUL

Roger Malehorn, Jim Lombardi and Frank Young will be able to hold their own in the 880 while Eddie Salmon is the number one man in the mile and two-mile runs. Malehorn and Bob Andrews will give Salmon support in both long distance races. Sophomore Tom Crist, a Gettysburg High product, is the leading contender for the 100 and 220-yard dashes. John Wilkerson, Harrisburg, is a double letter winner in the 440. Senior Phil Wargo and Sophomore Harry Buzzard will be called upon to carry the lead in both high and low hurdles. Several untested men could make a difference in the field events. Senior Don Vitko has come along fast in the shot and discus while Sophomore Bob Bassman, York, has been putting on an impressive show in the pole vault. Junior Lane Kneeler, Lansdale, is expected to collect points in the high jump with veteran Dick Lindsey and Dick Clover carrying the brunt of the load in the broad jump and javelin, respectively.

Local Squad To Meet On Monday

All members and candidates for the Gettysburg team in the South Penn Baseball League are requested to meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the VFW Home to make final plans for the coming season.

Marlin "Skip" Fiszel was named manager of the team at a recent meeting. It was decided to sell sponsor tickets at 50 cents each to help raise funds to defray expenses. The local team will meet Littlestown here in the opening game April 29.

The 16-man squad will be attired in new uniforms, the following business and organizations each sponsoring one uniform: Inland Container Co., Varsity Diner, Bixby Men's and Boy's Shop, Biglerville National Bank, P. D. McDermitt Insurance, C. E. Williams and Sons, First National Bank, Swope's Phillips 66, Adams County Motors, K. and W. Tire Co., Battlefield Earthmoving Inc., Saylor's Gulf Service, VFW Post 15, Weikert's Barber Shop, Wentz Furniture, Gettysburg News and Sporting Goods.

YMCA Swim Meet Is Underway Here

Tom Dillman, representing the York YMCA, captured the Prep division diving champion here Friday night at the Gettysburg College pool as the annual state YMCA swimming and diving meet got underway.

The swimming meet will be held today with Preps-Cadets beginning at 10 a.m. and the Junior-Senior portion of the championships beginning at 2 p.m. York will be represented by 35 swimmers in the meet.

The driver who speeds along at 85 is literally killing time.

SPRING GROVE NIPS DELONE

Bill Timmins, Delone Catholic righthander, allowed but one hit as he lost a tough 1-0 decision to Spring Grove Friday afternoon at Spring Grove.

In the bottom of the sixth Timmins walked Jim Madison, his seventh free pass of the game. Madison was forced at second base by George Smith. Dan Beckner then rapped the Rockets' only hit, Smith streaking to third with the help of an outfitfield miscue. Smith ran home with the only run when Mike Yantis threw wild to third base in an effort to pick him off.

Smith pitched the first four innings for Spring Grove and gave up safeties to Frank Moore and Jim Livesberger while fanning eight and walking three. Ross Welsh finished the game, adding seven strikeouts and walking one. Timmins, who pitched the entire game for the Squires, struck out 10.

A return game with Spring Grove is scheduled for next Wednesday at McSherrystown.

away, losing pursuing photographers on the road to Ostia Antica.

Miss Taylor and Burton have been reported being together frequently off the set, but this was one of the few times that they appeared publicly.

In New York Friday, Fisher admitted that his wife refused to issue a statement denying reports of their estrangement.

RUMORS "FALSE" — ?

During a news conference at the Hotel Pierre, he said that rumors of a breakup with Miss Taylor were "preposterous, ridiculous and absolutely false."

"The only romance between Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton is Marc Antony and Cleopatra, and I might say a mighty good one," he said.

Fisher flew to New York last week, ostensibly on business. He appeared on a television show Sunday night, then dropped from sight. It was discovered that he entered Gracie Square Hospital early Monday. He left the hospital Thursday and again went into hiding. He emerged to stage his news conference.

WANTS A REST

Fisher said he entered the hospital for a rest.

The filming of "Cleopatra" began in Rome last September. Some weeks ago, rumors of a rift between the Fishers were heard, with Burton's name figuring prominently. All involved—including Burton, who also is married—denied the reports.

About the time Fisher flew here, Mrs. Burton returned to London from Rome.

Dean maintained that no form of treaty can be discussed before an understanding has been achieved on several important aspects.

Examples, he said, are the problem of eliminating nuclear stockpiles, delivery vehicles, measures of inspection and verification that disarmament rules are being obeyed, and the shape of a future international disarmament organization.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Soviet draft calls for complete disarmament within four years. The West does not accept this time limit and demands a detailed understanding on each step in the process.

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you think you have a tough landlord, consider the plight of the State Department in Romania.

Without advance notice, its rents on legation offices and residences in Bucharest were hiked as high as 700 per cent last Jan. 1, the average being about 300 per cent.

The landlord, the Romanian government, rejected a protest filed by the United States and other nations whose rents also were boosted.

U.S. OBJECTS TO RED PUSH AT GENEVA

By PATRICK MASSEY

GENEVA (AP) — The United States objected Friday in the 17-nation disarmament conference—which is still far from an accord on fundamental issues—to Soviet efforts to steam-roller a Soviet draft treaty through to adoption.

"You can't build a house before you've drawn up a blueprint," U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the gathering.

Dean said it is useless to discuss proposals for a treaty line by line until at least some measure of agreement has been reached on the real issues of disarmament.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin contended that the draft forms a satisfactory basis for discussion of those issues.

FARM

Improved Pastures Urged For Steers In Summer

By FRANK S. ZETTEL

Adams County Farm Agent
Beef producers thinking about pasturing steers this summer are urged to consider the extra beef that improved pastures will yield over unimproved pastures. A Penn State test showed native unimproved pasture produced less than half as much beef as an improved grass pasture. Yearling steers in the unimproved gained .96 pounds daily compared to 2.09 pounds for steers on the improved grass.

FRANK S. ZETTEL

A dairy farmer may have little control over the price he gets for milk, but he does control, to a large degree, the cost of producing it. And profit is the difference between production costs and market prices.

While average permanent pasture in Pennsylvania does not yield more than 200 pounds of beef per acre, it is not uncommon for improved pastures to yield three times this amount. Low-producing permanent pastures have long been regarded as the logical summer feed for most beef cattle. Recent changes in market demands emphasize rapid growth and slaughter at younger age and lighter weight. Rapidly-growing animals make good use of the high-protein feed that is provided by improved pasture. High yields of forage per acre permit high yields of beef per acre.

Steers or heifers scheduled to go on good pasture this summer should not be fed to gain more than one and three-quarters pounds daily during winter and early spring. Slaughter cattle carrying considerable condition should continue to be fed grain on pasture. Lean, growth cattle make most economical gains during the early pasture season with grain. Good pasture usually furnishes enough protein during the early part of the season so there is no need for feeding additional protein supplement.

NEED HIGH PRODUCERS

Prune Fruit Trees—A pruning sequence suggested by Carl Bittner, Penn State extension pomologist, is to start on bearing apple and pear trees and do the young trees later. Then work on the sour cherries. Leave the sweet cherries and peaches until last. Grapes may be pruned in late fall, winter, or early spring.

Get Ready—Be ready for the arrival of baby chicks, urges Carl Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Properly adjust the brooder stove, provide litter on the floor, put water in fountains, have feed and grit available and set up a guard about 18 inches from the outside edge of the hover.

that are heavy producers early in the lactation period frequently drop down to low dairy record, while less impressive but regular producers may score much better by the end of a year.

Two types of testing programs showing feed costs as well as production for each cow are available to Pennsylvania dairymen, and the DHIA and Owner Sampling programs are pointing the way to more efficient production for more than 6,000 dairymen in this state.

URGES SOIL TEST

Proper plant food balance is the main foundation on which to build a good, permanent soil fertility program. Other essential "building blocks" are good soil tilth and favorable conditions for the growth of soil organisms and for control of erosion.

Because of the importance of plant food balance, soil tests for lime, phosphate and potash can give the farmer valuable information in guiding him toward the proper use of fertilizer.

Soil tests can make money for the farmer by showing him what fertilizer treatments he needs to apply to his soil in order to produce profitable yields. Tests can also save him money by showing him where his soil does not need treatments.

Prune Roses—When new shoots appear on roses, it's time to prune them, advises Lynn Smith, extension flower specialist at Penn State. Remove old or dead wood to keep the plant young and vigorous. Do not prune climbers and rambler roses until after they have bloomed or you will remove flower buds.

fire blight, advises Allen Bauer, Penn State extension plant pathologist. The bacteria causing the disease are inactive during the winter when the trees are dormant, so no chemical disinfectant is needed.

Feed Heifers Well—Heifer calves should be fed all of the good or excellent quality forage they want. Harvey Shaffer, Penn State extension dairy specialist, also suggests adding one or two pounds of a 16 per cent grain mix, because well-grown heifers, to be freshen at 24 months of age, will return more profit during their life in the herd than those that freshen as older heifers.

First step in getting soil tests is to do a good job of taking soil samples from the field. Complete directions for collecting soil samples are included in the soil test mailing kit available from the County Agricultural Extension office in the courthouse, Gettysburg.

Making Appeal To State High Court

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — City officials are drafting an appeal to the State Supreme Court in their fight against a order by the State Sanitary Water Board to abate stream pollution, it was disclosed Friday.

City Council has adopted a resolution to appeal the decision handed down in Commonwealth Court March 5. The decision rejected the city's appeal from an order by the Sanitary Water Board to proceed with a program to abate stream pollution.

Wilkes-Barre lies along the Susquehanna River.

"Oscar" Has Some Memorable Moments; Academy Awards Presentations—April 9

By CHARLES J. LEAVY

ON MONDAY, April 9, in millions of homes, the most popular parlor game will be predicting the winners of the 1961 "Oscars," the golden statuettes awarded for highest achievements in the motion picture industry by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Starting at 10:30 p.m., the combined radio and television facilities of the American Broadcasting Company and the Canadian has become identified with each year's presentation.

ONLY ONE GIRL

At that first presentation, all the winners were men except for a young girl, Janet Gaynor, who was honored for acting achievements in three pictures, "Sunrise," "Seventh Heaven" and "Street Angel."

At the second presentation in 1930, Mary Pickford became the first winner to weep with joy when William C. De Mille pres-trophy just before it was needed for the Best Picture Award. That same year Walt Disney collected the first of the 26 "Oscars" which make him the all-time winner.

Will Rogers kept the 1934 banquet in a merry mood with his quips. Director Frank Capra had an embarrassing experience that year. Nominated for the first time, Capra, later to win three awards, got to his feet and started for the rostrum when Rogers said, "Come and get it, Frank." Capra

Shirley Jones, winner of last year's Best Supporting Actress award for "Elmer Gantry," will present an "Oscar" to this year's winner in the Best Supporting Actor category at the 34th annual awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to be telecast by ABC-TV Monday, April 9, at 10:30 p.m.

Broadcasting Company will bring into these homes the year's most spectacular, star-studded show direct from the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

HOPE TO PRESIDE

Bob Hope will again be master of ceremonies, and such stars as Fred Astaire, Rock Hudson, Shirley Jones, Gene Kelly, Burt Lancaster, Debbie Reynolds, Cyd Charisse, Glynis Johns, Rod Taylor, Shelley Winters and many more are slated to appear on this the 34th annual "Oscar" Show.

In 1931 the affair had assumed national importance as evidenced by the fact that Vice President Charles Curtis came from Washington to add personal greetings to the well wishes from President Hoover. At the same ceremony, a boy named Jackie Cooper, who had been nominated that year for his performance in "Skippy," slept through the entire affair in the arms of Marie Dressler.

HAD TIE VOTE

The 1932 program was enlivened by the announcement that there was a tie vote in the actor category between Fredric March and Wallace Beery. Each was handed a statuette while an Academy official looked on in horror.

This would make the number of statuettes wind up one short so the man raced for the Academy office and back with an extra was about 40 feet from his chair when he realized that Rogers was motioning to Frank Lloyd, the real winner for "Cavalcade." Capra later described his return to his seat as "the longest crawl in history."

CAUGHT AT TRAIN

In 1935, Claudette Colbert, never expecting to win for "It Happened One Night," was getting on a train for New York at the moment her name was announced as winner of the best actress award. While the train waited, she was whisked by taxi to the Biltmore Hotel where she was the only feminine star to receive an award in informal dress.

The year 1939 was one of repeats. Bette Davis, for "Jezebel"; Spencer Tracy, for "Boys Town," and Walter Brennan, for "Kentucky," all got their second "Oscars." The same year Edgar Bergen received a wooden statquette with movable jaws in honor of his wooden friend, Charley McCarthy.

The boo-boo on the news release in 1940 brought into being the sealed-envelope system for the 1941 affair. It has been retained ever since. In 1941 a record crowd arrived early to hear a special radio message to the academy from President Roosevelt.

SISTER VS. SISTER

In 1942 the big story was sister versus sister. Joan Fontaine and Olivia de Havilland, both unsuccessful nominees before, were up as best actress. Joan won for "Suspicion."

It was a most poignant moment back in 1947 when Harold Russell held the two Oscars won for his role in "The Best Years Of Our Lives," in his two artificial hands and stepped proudly from the podium.

The year 1953 marked a milestone in "Oscar's" life as the program in its entirety went over television for the first time.

FINALLY WINS

Marlon Brando, after being nominated without winning for the three previous years, got an "Oscar" in 1955 for "On The Waterfront." That picture won as best production and brought a supporting actress award to Eva Marie Saint and another to Director Elia Kazan.

When David Niven won his first "Oscar" in 1958 for "Separate Tables," millions chuckled as he stumbled on his way to the podium, then said, "I'm so loaded down with good-luck charms I could hardly make the steps."

These are just some of the memorable moments throughout the years. What will this year bring? We would hesitate to predict but as we have done for a number of years past, we must at least make our prediction of the awards in some of the main categories.

BEST MOTION PICTURE OF THE YEAR — "West Side Story."

BEST PERFORMANCE BY AN ACTOR — Maximilian Schell ("Judgment At Nuremberg").

BEST PERFORMANCE BY AN ACTRESS — Natalie Wood ("Splendor In The Grass").

BEST PERFORMANCE BY AN ACTOR IN A SUPPORTING ROLE — Peter Falk ("Pocketful Of Miracles").

BEST PERFORMANCE BY AN ACTRESS IN A SUPPORTING ROLE — Fay Bainter ("The Children's Hour").

BEST ACHIEVEMENT IN DIRECTING — Robert Wise and Jerome Robbins ("West Side Story").

filmed mystery series will summer-replace Perry Como. . . . Michael Landon, "Bonanza's" Little Joe Cartwright, does his first song-and-dance act on "Highways of Melody" Sunday, April 22. . . . "Come a Runnin'," a TV possibility for the fall, is a situation comedy about a small town doctor starring Lyndon Childs, Ruth Hussey, Stu Erwin and Sherry Jackson. . . . Marlo Thomas is bowing out of the Joey Bishop series.

LEE J. COBB will star in "The Unstoppable Gray Fox," an original William Saroyan teleplay, on GE Theater May 6. . . . "Battle Zone," an hour-long series about our servicemen in World War II is scheduled for next season by ABC-TV in the Sunday 8:30 p.m. spot. . . . "Combat," another war series, will also be on the ABC-TV schedule next season; it is slated for Tuesdays, 7:30-8:30 p.m., replacing "Bugs Bunny" cartoons and "Bachelor Father." . . . Kim Stanley and Patricia Neal will star as two spinster sisters in Tad Mosel's original play, "That's Where the Town's Going," Tuesday, April 17, 10-11 p.m., CBS-TV.

EDIE ADAMS will make her first TV appearance since Ernie Kovacs' death in a musical variety special to be seen over ABC-TV Monday, April 9, 10-10:30 p.m. immediately preceding the Oscar telecast. . . . A musical series will summer-sub for Shirley Booth's "Hazel" starting August 2 through September 20. . . . "The Real McCoys" will be seen Sundays, 9 p.m., CBS-TV next season. . . . Jan Peerce will be featured in a Passover program, "The Open Door," to be seen Sunday, April 15, 10-11 a.m., CBS-TV. . . . Andy Griffith, Dick Van Dyke and Ann-Margret guest on Andy Williams' special May 4.

TV Briefs

Roscoe Ates, prominent as a stuttering comedian in films and seen in TV on such shows as "Lawman" and "Tall Man" recently died at the age of 67.

Lloyd Bridges' son, Beau, will make his TV debut as an actor in "The Clear Horizon," daytime series on CBS-TV. Dad Bridges starred in a series, "Seahunt" in which he was an expert on underwater acrobatics. In "The Clear Horizon," ironically enough young Beau is called upon to fall out of a lifeboat — and drown! The elder Bridges, incidentally, will star in a new series this fall, "Adam Fable."

Ace Hudkins, one-time Prize-fighter, who now supplies horses, stage-coaches, etc., for "Lawman" and other westerns on the Warner Bros. TV lot, has returned to work after an illness of more than a year.

TV Briefs

Two of Hollywood's box office giants, Clark Gable and Burt Lancaster star in a hard-hitting realistic drama of World War II submarine warfare in "Run Silent, Run Deep." The premiere feature film on ABC-TV's "Hollywood Special," a new series spotlighting top stars and new-to-TV movies, Sunday, April 8 (8:30-10:30 p.m. EST).

Gail Patrick Jackson, executive producer of the award-winning "Perry Mason" series, has been named Businesswoman of the Year by the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Accounting Association. Mrs. Jackson also was one of the Women of the Year cited by The Los Angeles Times for civic contributions in 1961.
